#129

When a Seed is Buried..

Every drop of sweat someday blooms into the flower of success…
Hard work never goes in vain.

The struggles you are facing today…
may not be visible to the world.
But time records everything.

When a seed is buried in the soil,
it seems like it is lost forever…
But after some time, that same seed grows into a giant tree.
In the same way, your hard work may grow silently in the beginning…
but one day, it becomes your identity.

Sometimes results come late…
sometimes people make fun of you…
sometimes you feel tired…
But always remember —
a person who keeps trying consistently becomes difficult even for time to defeat.

Whether luck knocks on your door or not…
hard work creates its own path.

The nights you stay awake today…
the sacrifices you are making…
the lessons you learn from failures…
all of them will become your greatest strength in the future.

So don’t stop…

slowing down is okay,

but never turn back.

Because —

“Hard work never goes in vain…

Sometimes it gives success,

and sometimes it gives the strength to become successful.”